TEACHING PHILOSOPHY

My teaching philosophy is deeply embedded in the fabric of my historical evolution. As an immigrant to this country and having grown up in poverty in the deep South, I'm a firm believer in hard work, respect, and humility. Everyone who walks through my classes can succeed and achieve whatever they want to through dedication and hard work. I support my students as individuals and try to listen to my students and their needs (within reason) knowing that everyone of us is unique in our own ways. At the same time, I am a firm believer in structure and respect. In short, I am fair but very, very firm. I center my classes upon the notion of reciprocity; rather than me teaching you everything, it's a journey where we all learn from one another seeking self-improvement each and every day. I try to develop a "mentor" relationship with my students, which means that I am no better than you (I just have a little bit more experience and certain expertise in History). If you are willing to put in all you have, think outside the box, create and reach for your goals then success will be just around the corner.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This is the second semester course in United States History. It includes the political, cultural, and social development of the United States from 1876 to the present. This course meets the California State University requirements for United States History.

COURSE STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

1. Formulate a basic chronology of the political, economic, and social developments of the United States from 1877 to the present.
2. Compare and contrast the role of major ethnic and racial groups (African, European, Asian, Latin America, and Native American) in the American politics, labor, and society.
3. Critically evaluate the influence of industrialization, immigration, and urbanization on American society as well as the corresponding conservative and liberal responses.
4. Locate and identify geographical sites within the United States and the world and assess their importance for U.S. domestic growth and America's strategic foreign involvements.
5. Locate primary and secondary sources in the library and on the Internet and be able to examine, assess, and organize sources into a logical argument.

*Each exam is worth 50 points

Each quiz is worth 5 points

EXAMS – Two exams (combinations of multiple choice, matching, short answer, map, and essay) covering the reading material, lectures, class discussion, film, and anything presented in class. There are absolutely NO makeups allowed in the class for any reason whatsoever. Please understand this policy very well before you continue on with this class. Exams are open for 1 and only 1 day during Exam Week (On Fridays). Exams are closed-book, closed-notes and timed. EXAMS ARE ALWAYS CLOSE BEFORE 11:59 P.M. FRIDAYS OF EXAM WEEK.

PARTICIPATION – You are expected to actively participate in this class. IT'S THE SINGLE LARGEST COMPONENT OF YOUR GRADE. Participation is mainly gained through actively engaging in the weekly discussions and activities in the class. There are several ways for you to obtain participation points. A more detailed explanation is in the Introduction module in Canvas and how you can accumulate these points throughout the course.

Writing – Analytical essay pertaining to major topics we cover in class associated with the course SLO's. Count on roughly 4-5 pages of writing for the semester. Late work is never accepted under any circumstance; NO EXCEPTIONS!

QUIZZES – There is a quiz for each unit we cover. The 10 highest scoring quizzes will count towards your overall grade. Each quiz is worth 5 points. Quizzes cannot be made up under any circumstance. Due dates for quizzes are found online in your modules as well as the assignment itself.

OTHER ASSIGNMENTS – Several small projects will be assigned throughout the semester. These could include group discussions, in class projects, write ups, etc.

ATTENDANCE – “Attendance” is taken through the mandatory assignments due for this class. YOU MUST COMPLETE THE MANDATORY INTRODUCTION ASSIGNMENT IN THE FIRST WEEK OF CLASS TO CONTINUE IN THE COURSE. FOR THE REST OF THE SEMESTER YOU ARE ALLOWED TO MISS A MAXIMUM OF 1 EXAMS, QUIZZES, AND/OR ESSAYS. AFTER THAT YOU WILL BE IMMEDIATELY DROPPED FROM THE CLASS. NO EXCEPTIONS! Note: While you are eligible to be dropped by the instructor, you are ultimately responsible to drop yourself from class if you are no longer active in the course.

COURSE SCHEDULE

This course is not a self-paced course. It is a highly-structured, regimental, and extremely fast-paced. It is important for your success and your grade that you actively participate each week. Between readings, discussion and assignments, you should plan to spend at least 5-8 hours per week working on the course.

Course week: The week begins at 12:00 am on Monday morning and ends at 11:59 pm on Sunday night. HOWEVER, Exams, Quizzes, and Essays, are always due on FRIDAYS BEFORE 11:59 P.M. (UNLESS NOTED OTHERWISE). Any assignment not received before the due date is late and not accepted.

It is imperative that you log into your class every day, even just to check on announcements and/or your private messages.

Your course is located online at MYCOLLEGE.LACCD.EDU You should be logging into your course each day and checking your weekly modules. The course itself runs like a regular classroom. All the material, content, and information are located on your class page in Canvas (the official learning management system for this class).

COURSE POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

Any form of abuse, degrading, insulting, or negative conduct through any aspect related to this class will not be tolerated and the student will be referred to the college for disciplinary action and be dropped from the class. Please refer to the semester class schedule for details about the “Standards of Student Conduct” or see below:

Standards of Student Conduct

A student enrolling in one of the Los Angeles Community Colleges may rightfully expect that the faculty and administrators will maintain an environment in which there is freedom to learn. This requires that there be appropriate conditions and opportunities in the classroom and on the campus. As members of the College Community, students should be encouraged to develop the capacity for critical judgment; to engage in sustained and independent search for truth; and to exercise their rights to free inquiry and free speech in a responsible, non-violent manner. Students shall respect and obey civil and criminal law, and shall be subject to legal penalties for violation of laws of the city, county, state, and nation. Student conduct in all of the Los Angeles Community Colleges must conform to District and College rules and regulations. Violations of such rules and regulations, for which students are subject to disciplinary action, include, but are not limited to the following:
